4 COUNCIL TAX REDUCTION SCHEME

Councillor Julian Thompson-Hill (lead member for Finance and Assets) introduced a report (previously circulated) on the Council Tax Reduction Scheme. He reminded members that Council had adopted a new scheme to provide council tax support on the 8 January 2013. However, the Welsh Government had then amended their regulations on the 24 January and were making £22million available to local authorities in Wales to increase protection for affected residents from 90% to 100% protection.

Councillor Thompson-Hill advised that the Council was required to adopt the amended scheme before the end of January if it wished to take advantage of the discretionary elements which offered enhanced protection to residents.

The Head of Finance and Assets informed members that Denbighshire Council would receive £840K to finance the discretionary elements. He confirmed that the changes also meant that the Council would not have to send out demand notices to residents for amounts that would have been payable by affected residents with the associated likelihood that not all sums owed would be recoverable.

The Monitoring Officer replied to a query and confirmed the legal and constitutional position for Council revisiting a decision it had made earlier in the month.

Several members queried whether the additional funding would be sufficient to allow the Council to lower its council tax next year. The Head of Finance and Assets reported that the sums involved would not equate to a fall in 1% of the Council Tax but that the draft budget was being reviewed as a result of the income and because collection costs were being avoided. He added that it was not certain whether the Welsh Government would be able to fund 100% protection for longer than one year, but the Council was prudently viewing it as potentially one year funding only.

Members discussed the UK Government's decision to reduce protection in the Council Tax Benefits Scheme which was expected to be permanent. If the Welsh Government decided not to continue to fund the shortfall for longer than a year then local authorities in Wales will need to consider whether the cuts would be passed onto affected residents.

Council also considered the 4 discretionary elements of the new scheme individually.

RESOLVED – that
