Introduction

Denbighshire County Council has adopted a strategic aim of being “a high performing council closer to the community”.

To help achieve this aim, the County Council is inviting the town / city and community councils and the businesses, community and voluntary sectors in each of its main towns / city and the smaller outlying communities which relate to them to join together to develop “town plans” or in this case, a city plan. These will be living documents which will be subject to regular reviews and will set out

- the current situation in the town / city
- the key challenges and opportunities which they will face over the next decade
- a vision for each town / city which will provide it with a sustainable future, and
- realistic and achievable actions which will deliver that vision.

St Asaph

St Asaph, situated on the banks of two rivers, is dominated by its cathedral, which is held to be the smallest in Great Britain. The character of the town and the surrounding area has been largely shaped by this association but St Asaph also has strong associations with words and music and is home to the annual, week long North Wales International Music Festival.

The natural river setting of St Asaph Common and Roe Plas is very popular with walkers and families. The only Welsh medium secondary school in Denbighshire is located at St Asaph. There is an excellent play area for children, a leisure centre with an all weather pitch, a MUGA (multi use games area), tennis courts, bowling green and a cricket club.

The population of the city of St Asaph is 3,355.

The area around the city of St Asaph also includes Cefn Meiriadog, Tremeirchion, Rhullt, Trefnant and Waen and these communities are the home to a further 3,619 people.

Where we are now

People

Compared to the county as a whole, the city boundary of St Asaph has

- a similar proportion of people aged over 65,
- a higher percentage of over 85's,
- fewer young people under 15 but a higher percentage in the St Asaph West ward,
- fewer households claiming housing or Council Tax benefit
- a higher proportion of households that are overcrowded

Community

Compared to the county as a whole, more people in the city of St Asaph

- have been born in Wales, but
- less people can speak Welsh.

St Asaph is notable for its low crime rate, particularly for incidences of violence against the person, criminal damage and theft and handling.

The Welsh Government uses a formula to measure deprivation. Wales is split into 1896 areas which generally are smaller than County Council wards although this is not the case in St Asaph. Each area is then ranked with the most deprived given a score of 1 and the least deprived as score of 1896. The scores in different years are not directly comparable because the way in which the index is calculated changes over time.

In the 2011 edition of the Index, the ranking for St Asaph West has increased compared with the 2008 edition indicating an increase in deprivation in that area. This is explained by a fall in income and increase in unemployment relative to the rest of Wales. There has been no significant change in the ranking for St Asaph during the same period.

Jobs

Compared to the county as a whole,

- more people who live in St Asaph work in the public sector (and more people in Denbighshire work in this sector than in any other local authority area in Great Britain),
- fewer people work in retail
- a higher percentage of people work in manufacturing with the percentage in the West ward being particularly high for the county
- fewer people commute more than 20km to work, and
- a similar percentage of people of working age claim Job Seekers' Allowance.

Average annual household incomes in St Asaph are higher than the average for Denbighshire.

The place

The principal attraction in the city itself is the Cathedral which had around 9,000 visitors in 2011. However, the Cathedral hosts a number of prestigious events during the year which attract many more visitors in their own right.

There are 92 bed spaces in graded visitor accommodation in the city. The Oriel House Country Hotel & Spa is the only 4 star hotel in the county and Tan yr Onnen in Waen is the county's only 5 star "guest house".

Vacancy rates for retail premises – Autumn 2012

St Asaph	3.5%	(2 units)
UK	16.3%	(Colliers International)

Future challenges and opportunities

People

Up to 75 new residential units are proposed for the former HM Stanley Hospital site.

Land with outline planning permission for residential development at the former St Winefride's primary school has been purchased.

The residential developments off Bishop's Walk and at Bryn Gobaith have not yet been completed.

Community

Funding towards the cost of constructing a new community centre on a site near the library is being investigated.

Older teenagers say there is nothing for them to do or anywhere for them to go.

Youth Services has developed a Youth Centre with excellent facilities.

There is a football club and a cricket club with youth teams.

A hydro power project is being developed at Cefn weir on the river Elwy.

Following the floods in 2012, funding has been secured for a new Cricket Club and the library has been fully refurbished and modernised

Future challenges and opportunities

Jobs

There is a variety of retail and hospitality businesses within the town. Larger companies have invested in the area such as Marston's Brewery which has recently renovated the Talardy Hotel.

There are specialist retailers such as Foxon's, R.N. Williams and Daniel Jones Butchers in the city centre which attract customers from a wider area.

Many of the 120 coaches which go to the Tweedmill shopping outlet in Trefnant, every month will pass through St Asaph to get there. Development of the City's facilities to capture these visitors by providing a coach park, toilets, shops and restaurants is needed.

Situated adjacent to the City within the Bodelwyddan ward, St Asaph Business Park is a major centre for advanced manufacturing and a key growth area. Development of the St Asaph Business Park is likely to be a key theme of the emerging European Programme. New Vision and Vista are currently developing land at the old Pilkington's Glass Factory and sports ground, however further land is available for development. There are a number of high quality businesses situated at the park including OptIC which is an opto-electronic technology and incubation centre with a world class reputation, operated by Glyndwr University.

There could be better links between the town and the business park both in terms of businesses working together and the infrastructure along Glascoed Road.

The owners of the livestock market site have indicated that there may come a time when they would wish to sell the site in which case there would be an opportunity for accommodating an alternative use on it.

Place

The new City of St Asaph gained the status in March 2012 as part of the Diamond Jubilee celebrations.

The city is located very near to the A55 providing a good transport network for residents, commuters and businesses.

Denbighshire Highways are undertaking a three stage review of parking and altering the parking restrictions. Continuing to explore the possibility of a by-pass.

Brown visitor signs for the Vale of Clwyd would assist visitors travelling along the A55.

New visitor information boards are being installed in the west ward.

Vision for St Asaph

We want St Asaph

- to offer an enviable quality of life attractive to residents of all ages
- to be where the potential of the cathedral and the natural river setting as a visitor destination has been realised, and
- to sustain and further develop its buoyant evening economy.

The Links between the City and the Area

The communities of Trefnant, Cefn Meiriadog, Tremeirchion, Waen and Rhualt and are closely linked with St Asaph as residents use many of the services that the town has to offer. There is a regular bus service into St Asaph from Trefnant, but the transport links from other areas are infrequent or none existent. Trefnant is home to the Tweedmill Shopping Outlet and work is ongoing to improve the links between the shopping outlet and the City of St Asaph.

Area Plan Priorities

1. Assisting the Community Council to develop the school field into a children's play area – with an estimated cost of £8k.
2. Extending the double yellow lines by the school on Henllan Road, Trefnant to beyond the bend to stop problems with traffic getting around the bend when cars are parked on both side of the road – with an estimated cost of £2k.
3. Extending the lay-by at Cae Onnen, Glascoed– with an estimated cost of £5k.

How will we know if we are on track?

Annual reviews of progress will be undertaken by the County Council together with the Community Council. More regular updates will also be provided to the County Council's Member Area Groups and to the Town Council, and also to the wider community through County Voice and through press releases made by Denbighshire County Council. The Plan will be treated as a living document in which aspirations can be added or removed according to changes in circumstances.

Who was involved in the production of this plan?

This plan was produced by Denbighshire County Council following consultations with County Council Councilors and Services, Ward members, Community Councils, businesses, schools and the wider community.
